Mobile Patrols

Risk Management Security Services operate a team of highly trained Patrol and Response Officers to provide random patrols of premises during the silent hours.

A patrol service by our Security Personnel will complement existing security systems such as CCTV and intruder alarms and provide effective checks of the building and surrounding area.

Our Mobile Patrol Units check premises and act as a potential deterrent to would-be intruders. They also can prevent minor problems developing into more serious incidents such as extensive flood damage, or devastation from a carelessly discarded cigarette. Over the years, mobile patrols have prevented such damage and have been instrumental in the prevention of major business disruption.

Where there is not a requirement for Manned Guarding, a Mobile Patrol Service offers an excellent alternative

The attending Officer will complete a status report after each completed patrol with any defects, unauthorised persons or vehicles and potential problems being immediately recorded and, if necessary, reported. Our Officers will ensure the building and perimeter is secure before leaving your premises unattended.

Should any serious breach of security occur our Officer will immediately contact our 24-hour Control Centre who will advise the designated emergency customer contacts.

We are able to arrange the boarding up and securing of premises after an incident should this be required.

Patrols can be conducted internally and externally providing checks on critical areas and high risk equipment

Vacant building checks and weekly inspections can be conducted by our Mobile Patrol Officers ensuring that facilities and equipment remain in working order. These inspections can include the running of taps, flushing toilets and testing alarms.

We can also provide private property inspections whilst home owners are on holiday or away from their house for any period of time.

Locking and unlocking can be an extremely vulnerable time for your staff. They will have keys and the necessary codes to access the building and deactivate all alarms. Our Security Officers can provide this service taking the burden away from your staff and reduce the risk of personal attack or injury.
